Design Capsule: Festive made easy

Pre-draped sarees, embroidered co-ords, kaftans and light lehengas that look festive without the effort.

Forecut Editorial · 11 October 2026

Mood and colour

Pantone TCX (cotton) codes are the nearest match to the screen colour; confirm against a physical Pantone book and lab dips before production.

Why? Busy schedules and many functions per wedding mean shoppers want looks they can put on in minutes and wear more than once.

What? Festive dressing gets easier: ready-to-wear sarees, embroidered kurta co-ords, fusion kaftans, cape lehengas and lighter organza for sangeet, plus fit-and-flare Anarkalis that suit most occasions.

Who's showing it?

- Satya Paul: Fluid sarees styled for the office
- Abraham & Thakore: Sari-inspired silhouettes, printed co-ords and kaftans
- Verandah: Breezy, resort-style separates

How to build the capsule

- Offer the hero festive look in a pre-draped or co-ord version.
- Add capes and organza dupattas as add-ons to sell up.
- Show three ways to wear each piece across wedding functions.

Range plan

Focus on outfits that are quick to wear: pre-draped sarees, ready blouses and co-ord sets. Offer complete looks and add-ons such as belts and jackets.

- Hero pieces (about 20%): the strongest expression of the story, at higher prices.
- Core pieces (about 60%): easy-to-wear styles in the capsule colours.
- Add-ons (about 20%): accessories and layers that increase basket size.

Selling it in different regions

In India, time the capsule to the festive or summer window it suits. For South Asian communities abroad, link it to local festival dates and weddings. For international customers new to Indian fashion, lead with easy pieces such as shirts, jackets and scarves, and explain the craft.
